

We are Dorcas Yemen

Active in Yemen since 2021, we support communities affected by conflict, food insecurity and climate shocks through Crisis Response, Livelihoods and Food Security, Water, and Climate Adaptation.

Expertise

Our programmes apply integrated Humanitarian-Development-Peace Nexus approaches, combining emergency response with recovery and development. Our work is supported by growing national technical expertise in climate action, WASH, livelihoods and inclusion.

Strategic approach

Dorcas Yemen helps communities transition from crisis to recovery through integrated humanitarian and development programming. We connect emergency assistance with recovery to reduce long-term dependence on aid.

Looking ahead (2026–2030)

Dorcas Yemen will enable:

- Communities in vulnerable circumstances to move toward sustainable and inclusive recovery through strengthened local governance and resilient livelihoods.
- Women, youth, displaced groups and the Muhamasheen to access social services, protection and economic opportunities.
- Local partners to lead coordination, recovery and resilience-building efforts.

Join our vision for Yemen

Yemen's families face displacement, collapsed services, and deepening fragility. Dorcas is working to restore resilience, dignity, and hope through shelter, health, food, and economic recovery. We invite partners who share this commitment to join us in delivering sustained, multi-sectoral support across the country. Together, we can realise our vision for Yemen.
